YOUTHFUL HERO. Randall Pacatte, 13, standing behind his twin sisters Julie, left, and Jill, woke up about 5 a.m. Friday to see flames shooting from the floor fan in his doorway. Julie was sleeping on the floor under the fan. Young Pacatte kicked out the screen on his window, lowered Julie to the ground, ran outside to his parents' window and yelled to wake them. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Langston, 4125 Division St., got Jill safely from her room. The trailer and many of the family's personal belongings were destroyed.

Boy, 13, saves family

By GARY KERBEL

Press-Record Staff Writer

He woke up and heard popping noises. When he turned around and saw the fire, he almost panicked, but then he remembered what his mother told him.

"She always said if there were a fire in the trailer that I should get out as fast as I could, but I should stay calm and look around for my twin sisters," Randy Pacatte, 13, of 4125 Division St., said.

Fire gutted his parents' trailer shortly after 5 a.m. Friday, and thanks to Randy, none of his family was injured.

Young Pacatte heard the popping noises, noticed his fan was off and saw flames shooting from it when he turned around in his bed.

For a moment he started to panic as he was kicking out the screen window at the foot of his bed.

"But then I turned around to look for Julie, my 4-year-old sister, whose twin's name is Jill, and I saw her sleeping on the floor. The flames were about a foot and a half from her.

Randy explained that the fire apparently started in the fan which was sitting on a small stand in the doorway between his bedroom and the other part of the trailer, making it impossible to escape through the doorway.

"I picked her up and stuck her head-first out the window, but then I pulled her in, stuck her feet out and lowered her as far as I could reach. I had to drop her about a foot, though."

After his sister was out, Randy jumped out the window, ran to the front of the trailer and started yelling and pounding on the side of the trailer to wake his parents.

He told them there was fire and his father, Ed Langston, got up and grabbed Jill. She was sleeping alone in her and Julie's room, at the end of the trailer which was opposite the fire.

Randy said his mother told him to unplug the trailer, but he didn't know what she meant. Mrs. Langston wanted him to disconnect the trailer's master electrical supply.

After he woke his parents, Randy, still in his pajamas, undressed, ran back to his window, climbed up and reached to get his pants.

His mother had time to save some pictures of two of her older sons who had died.

Randy and his father found they had time to move a riding lawnmower and a push lawn-mower away from the trailer.

Now, in addition to a few personal items and some clothing salvaged after the fire was extinguished, that's all the Langston family has.

The trailer and its furnishings were insured, but their personal property wasn't.

One of the more prized things the family lost was a German Schrank (chest) which they had brought from Germany about a year before.

Langston was stationed in Bavaria in June of 1972 and returned in December 1973. The family had lived in the trailer one year. Langston is the NCO club manager at the Granite City Army Installation.

Walking through the charred ruins of what was once a family dwelling, Randy said, "This was my citizen band radio. It was listening to it about 2:30 in

Ambulance takeover is proposed

A major change in the way ambulance service is provided in the Quad-Cities was proposed by the five currently operating ambulance firms at a meeting Friday night with mayors, the county board chairman and a St. Elizabeth Hospital official.

Citing rising costs and tightening requirements on manpower and equipment, the present ambulance services asked that governmental bodies consider taking over the responsibility perhaps in conjunction with the hospital.

Text of the ambulance proposal to Quad-City mayors and St. Elizabeth Hospital follows:

"The federal Transportation Department Highway Safety Act established specific specifications for the type of equipment and material to be used and for the training of personnel required to furnish adequate ambulance service for the community."

"Traditional ambulance service which provided transportation of a patient to a medical care facility has been provided in this area by the funeral directors since the days of the horse-drawn carriages. Modern techniques in the handling and care of the people on route to a medical care facility can increase greatly their chances for a full recovery and remove much pain and trauma which could have occurred under the traditional ambulance services."

"When the state of Illinois seriously considered adopting the federal specifications about four years ago, the funeral directors of this area were faced with the decision of converting to the proposed modern techniques or to go out of the ambulance service business."

"The proposed statutes which were to govern ambulance operators were not enacted.

"As a result, ambulance services in the Quad-Cities to

Boundary ruling could shift taxes

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer

A "tentative legal opinion" has been issued by the office of Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas Byron which it is believed could have a drastic impact on the distribution of tax funds to townships.

Dean E. Sweet, staff assistant to Byron, issued a written opinion that property annexed by Granite City since 1890 may still be in the township from which it was annexed.

Sweet's opinion indicated the property would then be in Granite City, but in the original township, despite the fact that Granite City and Granite City Township boundaries are coextensive.

Questioned by the Press-Record about the opinion, Byron said Friday his department will review it further, but added, "We will probably stay with it."

Byron said the opinion was the result of study of the 1970 Illinois Constitution and of a Sangamon County Circuit Court opinion in Springfield in a similar instance.

"This is not a clear area and probably will have to be tested in court here. The Circuit Court opinion in Springfield is not binding in this county," he explained.

Sweet's opinion came in response to a request by Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles, who is attempting to determine which township should receive the township taxes from the property of Mrs. Karen Melton, 2445 Stratford Lane.

The property recently was annexed from Nameoki Township into Granite City.

After receiving the legal opinion, the clerk sent a letter to Mrs. Melton stating, "The township line does not automatically follow the city line in the case of an annexation or detachment. Therefore, it would appear that you are still a resident of Nameoki Township, even though you have been annexed by the City of Granite City."

Sweet said in the opinion that the new state constitution provides for a co-terminus township and city to annex simultaneously only if a referendum is held in both townships affected.

Byron said if his department does conclude that Granite City annexations since 1890 have not changed township lines, he will advise that tax distributions commence using the lines before the annexation.

"At that point we can expect the party being the funds to file suit and the whole thing will be tied up until we get a court opinion," he predicted.

He said Assistant State's Attorney Don Smith is conducting a detailed review of the laws involved and may recommend a final legal opinion to Byron within a few days.

The opinion was discussed during last week's Nameoki

Rotary installs

Americans' recognition of God and their willingness to unselfishly help others are pillars of strength in perpetuating freedom and fair play, Ray Sonnenberg said in delivering the principal talk at Friday night's Granite City Rotary installation dinner.

Executive director of the East St. Louis YMCA, Sonnenberg is past president of the Rotary Club there and a past Rotary district governor.

A head linesman in the National Football League, Sonnenberg also is active as an official in other sports. A native of Collinsville, he resides in Belleville with his wife and their seven children.

Retiring President Walter C. Milton noted that membership has grown from 73 to 80 in the past year, and new President Bill H. Terrell cited as 1975-76 goals a membership of 100 and a perfect attendance average.

Madison-St. Clair Counties district manager of the Franklin Life Insurance Co., Terrell will be aided as Rotary leader by Steven E. Bristol, first vice-president; Milton, second vice-president; Robert W. Stevens, secretary; Joseph P. Mittello, assistant secretary; Earl G. Dotzauer, treasurer; Thomas L. Thebus, assistant treasurer; Bernard T. Pinney, sergeant-at-arms; and Charles M. Hayes, assistant sergeant-at-arms.

Newly installed directors are Donald Pierson, Steven E. Rains, William D. Burckey, Robert Jackson and Donald G. Adams.

Past President Albert H. Froelich installed them and the new Granite City Rotary. Ann officers — Mrs. JoAnn Terrell, president; Mrs. Linda Bristol, vice-president; Mrs. Gail Miller, secretary; Mrs. Billie Schuler, treasurer; and Mrs. Lois Winter, past president and advisor.

Edwin G. Schmitt, president of the club in 1972-73, played the piano during group singing.

Dance music was provided by "The Classics." The gathering was held at Sunset Hills Country Club.

Ambulance

this date has not been directed to meet the stringent requirements of the Highway Safety Act.

"We feel that the requirements of the Highway Safety Act are valid and necessary for the proper care in transporting individuals of all ages to medical care facilities."

"It has been proven to be financially unfeasible for private enterprise to operate an ambulance service that meets federal specifications."

Therefore, the funeral directors of the Quad-Cities will eliminate their current ambulance service.

"It is recommended that by Oct. 1, 1975:

"A. The local municipalities establish an emergency ambulance service.

"B. St. Elizabeth Hospital provide emergency transfer capabilities to meet its own needs for emergencies, and a convalescent transportation service for the area.

"C. The funeral directors operating ambulance services now offer to sell to the local governments and/or hospitals the trauma equipment presently in service before offering to any other buyer. The selling price will be less than the highest bonafide offer."

The proposal was signed by Loren H. Davis for Davis Funeral Home, Mrs. Lucy M. Lucido for Lahey Funeral Home in Madison, Frank Mercer for Mercer Mortuary, Mrs. Ann Pieper for Pieper Funeral Home and John L. Sedlack for Sedlack Funeral Home in Madison.

It was emphasized that there is some flexibility in the Oct. 1 target date, and the local community will not be left without some type of service during an interim period preceding formation of a new service.

Ambulance services are operated now by Edwardsville firemen, Collinsville firemen and Wood River Township Hospital.

It has been estimated that six ambulances could serve the Quad-City area, and there has been speculation in recent months that fifteen might be called upon to render the service.

Hope has been voiced that there could be community coordination, utilizing a single switchboard and telephone number.

Few would be charged to those utilizing ambulances, with the remaining costs met through local governmental revenue or grants.

Those at Friday night's meeting at Charlie's Restaurant included County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, Madison Mayor Mike Sauck and St. Elizabeth Hospital Executive Vice-President Eilerman.

Pontoon Beach Mayor Floyd David Moss, unable to attend due to a Village Board meeting the same evening, told the Press-Record Saturday he will cooperate in trying to develop a workable program.

A former paramedic, he said there are many Vietnam veterans already trained for ambulance duty. If government agencies decide to enter into a contract for ambulance service, the contractor could hire such veterans, he noted.

Mayor Moss recalled developing a statewide ambulance and helicopter plans in response to 1968 federal legislation that had a 1972 effective date. Former Gov. Richard Ogilvie established the Illinois trauma system but had not yet acted on a statewide ambulance service plan when his term as governor expired.

Whether the scheduled new Thomas ambulance service agrees with the five other firms has not been indicated.

Funeral directors here and elsewhere have said it is becoming impossible to operate ambulances profitably due to requirements for particular types of vehicles, expanded "hardware and software" equipment within the ambulances, and staffing by at least two persons with extensive first-

Blocked air base transfer sets a dangerous precedent—Price

Rep. Melvin Price, (Dem., 23rd Illinois) has directed letters to the attorney general of the United States, Edward H. Levi, and the secretary of the Air Force, John L. McLucas, strongly urging appeal of an injunction issued by the District Court in Kansas City, preventing transfer of the Environmental Technical Applications Center, the Defense Communications Agency, Western Hemisphere, the 37th Tactical Airlift Squadron, and Headquarters, Air Forces Communications Service to Scott Air Force Base, Ill.

After reviewing the opinion of the court, Rep. Price, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, also pressed for expeditious preparation of the court-required environmental impact statement, and criticized the Air Force for failure to meet its own regulations in compiling data for an environmental assessment of the proposed transfers.

"In my view," Cong. Price said, "the court's decision extends the limits of the National Environmental Policy Act beyond the bounds Congress originally intended."

"NEPA is a strong and vital law which is serving a valid purpose in requiring decision makers to examine the environmental consequences of their actions. It does, however, have its limits."

"This decision would subject a military decision to deploy forces to civilian review on the basis of environmental impact. It is a potentially dangerous legal precedent in terms of national security and must not go unchallenged in the courts."

Recognizing the time required to prepare an appeal, Price is also encouraging rapid development of an environmental impact statement.

The Air Force currently anticipates it will take four months to complete the statement, and public law requires a 90-day period for public review and comment on the EIS.

"I consider four months to be more than adequate time," said Price. "Initial groundwork has already been laid for preparing the statement, and I believe the Air Force must consider the project of the highest priority."

Rep. Price feels the Air Force was more than partially responsible for the court ruling.

"While I deplore certain implications arising from the decision, it seems clear the Air Force must share responsibility for the delay."

"Air Force regulations require that a detailed environmental assessment be prepared to study the impact any troop movement would have, and that this assessment be used in deciding whether the move should take place."

"It seems clear at this time that the Air Force's assessment was ill-prepared and ill-considered. By ignoring its own regulations, the Air Force has done a disservice to itself and Scott Air Force Base."

Price, in his letter to the Air Force, also recommended a study of possible administrative or legislative remedies to clearly present standards for determining "major" federal actions as they relate to requirements for environmental impact statements involving military programs. "I hope now that we can quickly correct this mistake, and take positive action to prevent similar occurrences in the future," Price concluded.

East 23rd crash

Two women and a child were injured when the cars of Jack Whitlock, 1111 Madison Ave., Madison, and Robert Ryan, 2038 Iowa St., collided at East 23rd Street and Lee Avenue at 8:25 p.m. Wednesday. The impact span Ryan's car in the street.

Treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital were two members of Whitlock's family — Naomi Whitlock, 25, who suffered an injury to her right knee, and Paul Whitlock, 5, who struck and injured his chin. Both were released following treatment. Also hurt was Connie Ryan, 23, also of 2038 Iowa St., who suffered a neck injury but declined to be taken to the hospital.

Miss Smith was elected as chair director for the year.

There were 208 guild girls registered. Cedar View had the second largest group registered and presented the largest love gift offering.

Police officer hurt in crash

Granite City Patrolman Stephen Willaredt, 26, suffered minor injuries when the squad car he was driving and the auto of Janet Scarsdale, 3012 Myrtle Ave., collided at St. Clair and Myrtle avenues last week.

Willaredt said he was on a call and was using his red light and siren when the accident occurred. He was in the inside lane on St. Clair Avenue, passing the Scarsdale car on the left, when the auto began a left turn onto Myrtle Ave., it was reported.

Janet Scarsdale was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way to an emergency vehicle. Both cars were damaged.

Willaredt's injuries required hospital treatment for abrasions and hematomas to his right thigh and he was released.

GBU president honors local man

Frederick W. Schwesinger of Pittsburgh, Pa., president of the Greater Beneficial Union (GBU) of Pittsburgh, made a surprise visit to Granite City last week. The national officer attended a meeting of GBU District 481 of Granite City at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 2852 Edison Ave., specifically to present a gold ring and plaque to Bert Waltenberger, District 491 president. About 80 attended the business meeting and all but the honoree were aware that Schwesinger had arrived earlier the same day in Granite City to make the presentation.

Waltenberger was honored for achieving sales of more than $100,000 in insurance policies to new members. He has served as district president about five years.

Schwesinger was escorted into the hall after the regular business session was concluded.

Years

A Proud Heritage

□ Five men wrote it; fifty-six men signed it. And when the Declaration of Independence was written and signed in Philadelphia that July, 1776, a proud heritage was born.

That heritage has been championed for almost two hundred years now by generations of freedom loving men and women who have lived, worked, fought and died to make ours the greatest and most prosperous nation on earth.

We're proud of the part we've played in keeping that heritage alive and well during our years of community service.

This Fourth of July, as our nation's Bicentennial celebration nears, we hope you'll join us in reaffirming the proud heritage of our community and our nation.

It belongs to all of us. Let's build on it together. And let's do it proudly.

Foreclosures called long, costly in state

A study of foreclosure costs of six savings and loan associations—conducted by the Federal Home Loan Bank—indicates that it cost Illinois savings and loan associations more than three times as much to foreclose conventional mortgages as it cost savings and loan firms in Texas, and almost twice as much as it cost such associations in California.

The difference in costs, the study points out, is mainly caused by the longer period of time required by law in Illinois to complete the foreclosure process and sell the home.

In Illinois, an average of 816 days elapsed from the date the borrowers made their last payments to the date the homes were sold by the lender. In Texas, the same time period averaged 120 days and in California, 148 days.

Average direct costs to the lenders—such as court costs, attorney's fees, property maintenance and real estate commissions—were $300 for each $1,000 of loan balances in Illinois, as compared to $145 for each $1,000 in Texas and $168 for each $1,000 of loan balances in California.

The study included a sample of approximately thirty loans from each of six savings and loan associations, two from Illinois, two from Texas and two from California, a total of 72 loans.

Commenting on the study, H. Robert Bartlett Jr., president of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago, said, "The time and costs of mortgage foreclosures influence the lender's decision on loan applications."

"In states such as Illinois, where foreclosures are time consuming and costs are high, lenders are apt to be more cautious and impose stricter requirements in assessing borrowers' ability to repay the loans. Lenders may require larger down payments, shorter loan terms or deny applications in marginal cases.

"Also, foreclosure expenses are part of the lenders' costs of doing business, and therefore, are reflected in interest rates which all borrowers must pay for their loans."

The Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago is a reserve credit institution serving the savings and loan associations in Illinois and Wisconsin.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board, headquartered in Washington, supervises federally-insured savings and loan associations and oversees the operations of the 12 federal home loan banks.

A broadcasting station connected with the country's newest radio network is being set up in St. Louis. Within a few days, it will be on the air 24 hours a day and will broadcast nothing but news. Part of Physicians Radio Network (PRN), it is made possible through the support of six pharmaceutical firms.

For the past year, PRN has been broadcasting medical news to physicians in a growing number of cities throughout the country. In St. Louis, PRN will broadcast on a subsidiary frequency of Station WGNL-FM. This a frequency that can be heard only on a special radio.

The special radio will be supplied to St. Louis physicians free of charge. It will permit them to tune in any hour, any day of the week, for the latest news about advances in medicine.

Broadway work progresses

The pace of work on the relocation of Broadway which is to connect with the Broadway underpass and later with FA Route 181 has been stepped up by the contractor in an effort to make up lost time. Venice Mayor William "Mike" Eberhardt told City Council members last week.

The work is being done by the Kern Construction Co. which reported that 26 working days of the 210 days provided in the contract for completion of the job have been used. Eberhardt said, noting that while 48 per cent of the time has been used, the work is 28 per cent completed.

The mayor told the council that the contractor informed him that in 45 working days he can make up the time.

The council awarded a bid for asphalt to MacLair Asphalt Co. of Collinsville who bid $2,370.

The Reese Co. made an identical bid, but MacLair got the contract because its source of supply is closer to Venice.

The council approved a building permit for a six-room house to be built at 1319 Oriole St. by Lennal Johnson Sr. at a cost of $25,000.

Chief of Police Ralph D. Brawley told the council that after Monday city vehicle stickers will be $5 each. A city vehicle license bought before July 1 is $1.

Thomas Fields, administrative assistant to Mayor Eberhardt, reported that a schedule of trash pickups in Venice has been distributed to Venice homes.

"I have extra copies of the pickup schedule if any citizen did not get one. We hope to follow this schedule which will provide twice-a-week pick-up for everyone in the city," Fields said.

The arrest report for the month of May showed $256 in fines was received from the clerk of the circuit court.

Mayor Eberhardt informed the council that the First National Bank in Madison will hold a formal opening of its new drive-in facility at 9 a.m. on Thursday, July 3 and he hoped the aldermen and city officials would attend.

RANSACK TRAILER
The travel-trailer of Dr. James Myers, 2317 Cleveland Blvd., was broken into and ransacked while it was parked at the Colonades, 1 Colonial Drive, last week. An unsuccessful attempt was made to remove a radio mounted in the front wall. It was not known if anything was stolen.

1950 MHS reunion

The 1950 graduating class of Madison High School will hold a 25th class reunion on Saturday, July 18, at the Knights of Columbus hall, 21st Street and Edison Avenue.

A social hour will begin at 7 p.m., with a smorgasbord dinner at 8 p.m., followed by dancing at 9 p.m.

Cost is $20 per couple or $10 per person. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Henry (Theresa Podner) Dora, 1004 Collinsville Ave., Collinsville.

THEFT FROM CAMPER
A camping lantern, stove and cooler and three fishing rods and reels were stolen from the camping unit of Carl Pollard, 210 Sunny Shores Mobile Home Park, parked at his home, Pollard reported this week.

Tax relief forms being sent to aged, disabled

More than 170,000 applications for property tax relief available under the state's circuit breaker law have been mailed to senior and disabled homeowners in Illinois, state Revenue Director Robert H. Alphin said yesterday.

The forms were mailed to homeowners who applied in any previous year for property tax relief.

LOOT CAR ON BENNING

About 30 stereo tape recordings worth a total of $196, a $15 tape case, a flashlight and a pair of sun glasses were stolen from the auto of Robert Harris, 4204 Benning Ave., parked in his driveway, Harris reported last week. A side window of the car was broken to gain entry.

relief, according to Alphin, whose agency administers the three-year-old circuit breaker program.

The distribution was timed to coincide with county mailings of property tax bills, since information from the final property tax bill must be included in the tax relief application.

Alphin pointed out that the single application form this year served two tax relief programs.

One provides up to $500 to offset property taxes. And the other, signed into law this year, provides from $50 to $100, depending on the applicant's income, in additional tax relief. The director said persons applying for the additional tax relief grant only should write "Additional Grant Only" across the top of the application form. Anyone eligible for property tax relief is eligible automatically for the additional tax relief.

And senior and disabled citizens living in residences not subject to the property tax, though not eligible for the property tax relief, can qualify for the new tax relief grant.

Application blanks can be obtained upon request from the Circuit Breaker Section, Department of Revenue, Box 401, Springfield, Ill. 62708. Further information and assistance are available from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays by calling 800-552-8972, a toll-free number.

Route to rock fame

Stephen Stills, the opening musical act for this season's Mississippi River Festival, has traveled a circuitous route to rock fame.

Stills, who will perform Tuesday night first received national attention as a member of Buffalo Springfield. In that same group was Jim Messina from Logans and Messina; Richie Furay from Southern, Hillman and Parry; and Neil Young, among others. The group had a number of hits, including "For What It's Worth," before breaking up as each artist went his own way.

Stills moved from the Springfield group to studio work (for a span, and then, together with David Crosby from the Byrds, Graham Nash from the Hollies, and later, Neil Young, formed the first of rock's super groups, Crosby, Stills, Nash and

Granite City Press-Record Mon., June 30, 1975 Page 8

Young. The group's acoustic sound, mixed with occasional dashes of heavier rock, was a major success in the late 1960's and again in the '70's. Their appearance at the famous Woodstock festival was perhaps the highlight of their first year of work.

When the group disbanded, Stills went to singing and producing solo albums. His biggest single hit was "Love the One You're With," from the album "Stephen Stills."

As an example of his high regard among his peers, studio musicians and singers for that album included Jimi Hendrix, Rita Coolidge, John Sebastian, David Crosby, Graham Nash, Eric Clapton and Cass Elliot. Stills' latest album is called simply "Stills." "Turn Back the Pages" and "My Favorite Changes" are among the many songs from the new album that are currently receiving play around the country.

3 1/2 million flew in '74 from Lambert

The Federal Aviation Administration has announced that Lambert-St. Louis International Airport had one of the nation's largest increases in the number of passengers enplaned in 1974 as compared to other U.S. air carrier airports.

The figures show 3,338,947 enplaned passengers at Lambert in 1974, a 10 per cent increase over 1973 enplanements. The figures represent the number of passengers who board a plane in St. Louis en route to another destination.

Of the other large-hub air carrier airports in the U.S., besides Lambert, only Atlanta Hartsfield International Airport increased its passenger enplanements in 1974 by as much as per cent.

The FAA also ranked the top 50 U.S. air carrier airports by the number of plane operations, which include the landing and taking off of any type of aircraft—private, military and commercial.

Chicago O'Hare International Airport remains the largest U.S. airport in number of total aircraft and air carrier operations, followed by Atlanta, Los Angeles and Kennedy International (New York). Total air carrier operations at FAA-operated airports for the 1974 calendar year declined by 10 per cent compared to 1973. Air carrier operations were 16 per cent (or 9,202,726 landings and takeoffs) of the total 57,687,516 operations reported by the airport control towers. Total operations were up two per cent over the 1973 figures.

Students earn 'A' averages

Four students from Granite City have earned "A" averages at Western Illinois University in Macomb, and two of them received straight As.

Those earning straight As are Marie Kay Beljanski, 2000 Manley Ave., and Katherine Anne Lorr, 2417 Grand Ave. Cynthia Ann Schuler, 3237 Newell Drive, earned a 3.53 average on a scale with 4.0 being straight As, and Stephen C. Powderly, 121 Riviera Drive, earned a 3.5 average.

The university cited 1,711 undergraduate students for maintaining a 3.5 average or better.

Simple rules for safe trip

School is out and a season of summery weather is here. Many families will be taking to the road for short weekend trips and many more for vacations that will take them across the nation.

The Chicago Motor Club reports that the number of requests for travel information are up considerably from a year ago. Richard Evans, director of travel and touring for the Chicago Motor Club, said that they have been extremely busy in the last two weeks answering requests for route information.

"This year, people seem to be heading for places that are greater distances from home than in the past," Evans said. "We theorize that people want to see things they may not be able to afford to travel to after the expected gasoline price increase this fall."

Concerned that more motorists on the road may cause an increase in traffic accidents, Illinois State Police District Commander Albert J. Bertagnoli of the Maryville District, has asked motorists to observe a few simple rules to insure a safe trip.

(1) Check your car's engine for worn or cracked radiator hoses and fan belts.

(2) Make sure the oil and water levels are adequate and make a safety check of brakes, steering and the exhaust system.

If you have any doubts about the vehicle's condition, have it checked thoroughly by a qualified mechanic. Illinois State Troopers render assistance to thousands of stranded motorists each year.

The majority of these incidents involve mechanical problems that could have been avoided had a pretrip inspection been performed.

(3) Take only the things you are sure you will need. Many persons overload their vehicle with items never used on the trip. Each additional pound of luggage reduces your gas mileage.

(4) When packing the family car, remember to keep the windows clear of hanging clothes and items that will obstruct vision. Remember too, that items stashed on the rear window shelf become deadly missiles, not only in crash situations, but even when the vehicle stops suddenly.

(5) A car, loaded with luggage and passengers, will not handle the same as one that is carrying only a driver. You should expect greater stopping distances and more sway on curves.

(6) Good driver condition is vital to a safe trip. Starting a long trip with too little sleep and then not stopping frequently for breaks can turn a pleasure trip into a tragedy.

(7) Above all, the Illinois State Police urge you to leave early and obey the 55 mile per hour speed limit, a speed we can all live with.

Chouteau center plans viewed

Chouteau Township officials have been told by the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals that the township must stop dumping trash on township property which is now the site of the highway garage.

The Board of Appeals sent a letter to township officials which was read at the Chouteau Township Board of Auditors' regular meeting last week.

The board ordered the township to cover with two feet of dirt all trash it has dumped at the garage site.

John Rapp, architect for the proposed township office building and community development center, presented preliminary drawings to the board for consideration.

Bell ringing to mark July 4

Gov. Dan Walker has proclaimed July 4 as "Bells on Independence Day" and has urged Illinois residents to fly the American flag and ring the bells to celebrate the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

The proclamation was issued at the request of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The proclamation set out that "John Adams, one of the committee appointed to prepare the document and the second President of the United States, referred to its adoption by Congress as one of the greatest decisions of all time and predicted that the date of its adoption would be celebrated by succeeding generations as the great anniversary festival."

Governor Walker said the belling ceremony began 11 years ago to recall the ringing of the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia when the declaration was signed.

He noted that throughout the day state public officials, veterans organizations, civic, religious and labor groups will cooperate in special ceremonies, parades, displays and appropriate programs.

BURGLARIZE APARTMENT
A $45 tape player was all that was believed to have been stolen from the apartment of Andrew Forehand, 3002A E. 23rd St., during a burglary there last week.

Robber gets cash, car

Charlie Townser, Apt. 32, Venice Homes, was robbed at 10:25 p.m. Thursday by an armed robber who took Townser's wallet containing $25, his watch and about $3 in change and then drove off in Townser's white over brown Pinto, heading toward Brooklyn.

Townser told police that a man stopped him in his car 100 feet east of the railroad tracks on Main Street, Venice, and asked for a ride to St. Louis. The man told Townser that bridge guards would not permit him to walk across the bridge.

Near Bremen Avenue, the man produced a gun, and told Townser to get out of the car and lie down. He then robbed the victim and drove off in the car. Townser walked to a railroad shanty on Broadway and called police.

He described the bandit as about 5 feet 9 inches tall, a Negro male in his early 20s, clean shaven, of thin build and wearing a white T-shirt and blue jeans.

It's just a piece of cloth.

That is all it is—just a piece of cloth. But when a little breeze comes along, it stirs and comes to life and flutters and snaps in the wind, all RED, AND WHITE, AND BLUE! And then you realize that no other piece of cloth could be like it!

It has your whole life wrapped up in it—the meals you eat; the time you spend with your family; the kind of things your boy and girl learn at school; the strange and wonderful thoughts you get in church on Sunday!

Those stars in it—they make you feel just as free as the stars in the wide, deep night. And those stripes—they are bars of blood to any dictator who would try to change this way of life.

Just a piece of cloth, that is all—until you put your soul into it, and give it meaning. Then it is a symbol of liberty, and decency, and fair-dealing for everyone. It is just a piece of cloth until we breathe life into it; until we make it stand for everything we believe in, and refuse to live without it.

Tennis keeping 21 Quad-City courts busy; 5 more being built

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer
With baseball, basketball, wrestling, track, football, auto racing and soccer already established as major Quad-City area activities, one other sport here has mushroomed almost overnight, threatening to equal the others in popularity — tennis.

"Tennis has been on the scene for years," says Mike Jesse, recreation director of the Granite City Park District. "But I believe the sport really got a shot in the arm about three years ago with the Bobby Riggs-Billie Jean King televised match."

"People now realize they don't have to be of a young age to participate, and the sport has been growing by leaps and bounds ever since," Jesse said.

He relates that the park district's four tennis courts on Pabsting Road at Wilson Park cannot handle the volume of residents flocking to the courts on a daily basis and weekends. "That is why we have contracted to build two additional courts adjacent to the existing ones." Foundations have been created for the new courts.

The park district accommodates persons with park identification cards by making its Wilson Park courts available for use on a daily and weekend reservation basis.

Persons wishing to utilize the courts on a weekday must appear at the park office to make a reservation for any hour between 5 p.m. and 11 p.m. On Saturday and Sunday, reservations for afternoon play can be made at 1 p.m. for a one-hour period up to 5 p.m., and again at 6 p.m. for use between then and 10 p.m.

Open play is held during earlier hours. To assist the sport's growth, the park district also has an instructional program for adults and children wishing to learn how to play.

"Our enrollment in these classes," notes Jesse, "is three times as large this year over previous years."

Of the estimated 200 persons who receive instructions twice a week, 108 are adult students of high school age and over. For a sport that has no prior program roots, like soccer and baseball, high school tennis has proven unusually successful here.

"When I first started coaching tennis 21 years ago," recalls GCHS South mentor Richard "Dick" Harmon, "we played a 10-meet schedule each season, and only 32 teams participated in state competition."

"Our schedule of meets now has grown to about 22 per season and the number of teams at state has doubled to 64. "We had at that time only seven courts serving our needs here. Now there are 21 in use and another five being constructed," says Harmon.

Existing tennis courts are: Wilson Park four, GCHS North six, GCHS South six, Madison High School two, Lee Park in Venice two, and Stearns Park, one.

Under construction at this time are the two additional courts at Wilson Park and three at Seventh and Lee Streets, Madison, by the Madison City Playground and Recreation Commission.

Madison High School tennis coach Dan Kostienko believes the sport is proving successful in Madison. The school completed its second tennis season this spring as a varsity sport after an absence of one year.

"We thought tennis at Madison high was dead three years ago," says Kostienko, and then all of a sudden the interest began to grow again and we couldn't ignore the demands of the athletes. "I feel it will continue to flourish. Because a participant is not restricted by age as in other sports, a person can play all his life if he so desires.

"I've gone to the courts here and watched people in their 60s and 70s swing rackets. Doubles are favored by many of the oldersters to reduce the amount of running involved. Kostienko speculates that since there are no junior programs available in the area, the success of the sport in area schools will be closely linked to the availability of courts on which to play.

"I know that, at Lee Park alone, a person at times may have to wait up to two hours to get on the court."

"This can be discouraging to a youngster who is full of energy and looking for something to do. Therefore, I can see no other recourse but to continue constructing new courts at key locations in this area."

TENNIS. EVERYONE! Rapidly growing in popularity, the sport of tennis is keeping the Wilson Park courts (pictured above as they appeared last week) and all other Quad-City area tennis courts busy almost constantly from dawn to dark, and even after dark.

Braves face full card this week

The Granite City Braves, fresh from a forfeit win over Belleville yesterday in a Central Illinois Traveling League contest, will compete twice locally before going into action this weekend in the prestigious Midwest Youth baseball tournament at Belleville. The team now has a 15-3 record.

The 72-team tournament has entries from Illinois, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Indiana, Kentucky and Florida. The field includes the St. Louis Saints, defending tournament champion, and the Indiana state champion Smith Electric of Indianapolis.

Representing this area are the Braves, East St. Louis, O'Fallon, and Belleville West and East.

Stated for mound duty for the Braves are Paul Evans, Randy Lyster, John Lakin and Tim Slay, Mike Hankins and Tim Kirksey.

Eldon Warfield will stand ready in the bullpen. The tournament will open with Belleville East meeting the St. Louis Raiders Thursday. The Granite City club will play the victor of that contest at 1 p.m. Friday, July 4.

The Braves, still on the road, have two games on tap this week before the tournament. Tomorrow, they journey to Cahokia for an 8 p.m. game, and Wednesday they play Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307 in a 6 p.m. contest at Lee Park.

Venice-Madison Post unable to break streak

Venice-Madison Legion Post 307 was being blanked twice during the weekend, 4-0 at Belleville Saturday and 6-0 by Collinsville yesterday here at Lee Park. Its record slipped to 1-13.

Post 307 plays at Edwardsville at 6 p.m. Thursday, and then will compete Friday against Highland in a makeup contest at Lee Park.

Hurley Kevin Werner took the loss at Belleville. Steve McCunney and Joe Pechochinski collected hits for Post 307. Against Collinsville, Harold Williams was the losing pitcher. Hits were collected by Joe Gulash and Pete Feucka. Kevin Steible got the win for the visitors.

Myers wins 50-lap race at Tri-City

Bill Myers, 41, of Rosewood Heights, a former late model stock car track champion here, piloted his 1968 Camaro to victory Saturday at Tri-City Speedway in the third running of the annual Faltstaf Summer Classic 50-lap mid-season championship race.

Myers, holder of a one-lap time record of 25.78 seconds on the half-mile dirt oval, led the event from start to finish after starting on the front row beside Russ Wallace, current point leader in the late model division. Wallace finished second and Sandy Anderson was third in the event.

In sportsman class competition, Granite City John Kudek led a 15-lap feature race from the start through the 14th lap until a stalled race car on the back straight caused him to spin, allowing Missouri's Gary Wallace to take the checkered flag.

Other race event victors were: Late models—Anderson, first heat, Charlie Johnson second heat, Don Dunavan third heat, Ron Hourigan fourth heat, Bob Miner handicap, and Hourigan in the semi-main event; sportsman—Dean Aerne first heat, and Don Alfaro second heat.

The sportsman division will compete this Saturday in a mid-season championship race on the smaller, quarter-mile oval at the local racing facility, and tomorrow, the American Motorcycle Association's weekly racing program will resume at 7:30 p.m.

Mercer topped in Inter-City play

The Mercer nine, defending Illinois Inter-City Baseball League champion, lost both games of a doubleheader yesterday to Fairfax at East Alton, 4-0 and 7-3.

In Paul Baker was the winning pitcher in the first game, allowing hits to Jim Greenwald, Bob Scott and Bill Campbell. Mark Boone took the loss and now is 2-1 on the mound this year.

The host squad garnered one run in the third, two in the fourth and one in the sixth, highlighted by a homer from Jeff Reams.

Carey Simpson took the loss on the mound in the second contest in which Mercer earned three runs in the fourth inning and but three hits. Scott singled, Campbell reached on an error, Richard Schardan doubled and later scored on a muffed pickoff attempt.

Fairfax collected 11 hits, scoring two runs in the second,

Stanton throws one-hitter in Post 435 victory, 12-2

Former Granite City High School South baseball catcher Mike Stanton, in his first season as a pitcher with the Glen Carbon Steelers of Post 435, tossed a one-hitter Thursday evening and his teammates collected 14 hits to defeat Venice-Madison Post 307 at GCHS North field, 12-2, in a District 12 American Legion League contest.

Stanton yielded the lone hit to Steve McCunney in the opening inning of play, which ended with Post 307 ahead 2-0.

McCunney doubled, advanced to third on a catcher's error and then dashed home when the throw from home to third went past the baseman. Losing pitcher Kevin Werner reached base on an error, went to second on a fielder's choice and scored on two consecutive errors.

Nine Glen Carbon batters figured in the Steelers seven-run second inning. Ed Schmidt reached base on an error; Larry Petri and Daris Davis both walked, and Darrel Page batted in two runners. Richard Schmidt loaded the bats again, reaching base on an error, and Ed Kowalczyk doubled in two more runs. Stanton drew a walk, Jeff Reiter doubled, scoring two runs, and Billy Carr singled, putting a seventh runner across the plate. The Steelers added three insurance runs in the third frame when Petri walked, Davis reached on an error, Page singled, Kowalczyk doubled and Carr got a hit. For added security, Post 435 put two runs on the scoreboard in the fifth. Ed Schmidt walked, Petri doubled and Davis singled.

Davis to be elementary principal at Roodhouse

Ron Davis, baseball coach at Madison High School, has accepted principal positions at Hillview and Patterson Grade Schools, Roodhouse, Ill., effective in the 1975-76 school year.

In his six years at Madison, Davis has been the Trojan baseball manager for five of the six years in addition to serving as assistant football coach and as mathematics instructor.

A 1965 graduate of Madison high and a 1969 graduate with a bachelor of science degree in education, from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Davis earned his master's degree of science degree from SIUE in September 1974.

Though he feels the Trojan baseball program has been stable in recent years, Davis declined to comment extensively on his career as a coach "due to our having too many borderline seasons."

RON DAVIS

He and his wife, the former Marianna Fisk of Madison, and the couple's three-year-old daughter, Rachael, will reside in White Hall, Ill.

Pontoon readies budget

Pontoon Beach trustees were in complete preparation today of a budget for the village's 1976 fiscal year and will have it on public display at the village hall for 30 days, beginning tomorrow, it was announced during Friday night's Village Board of Trustees meeting.

Trustee Duane Skinner announced during the meeting that the finance committee was preparing the budget and it would be ready for passage at the board's next meeting July 11.

Village Board President Floyd David Moss was reminded that the budget must be on public display for 30 days before passage and that it must be passed before the end of July. Moss then pledged the budget would be on display tomorrow to fulfill the legal requirements.

The board also voted to allocate $300 to help finance the Metropolitan Enforcement (MEP) of the State of Illinois (a cooperative of under-cover policemen) working together in drug enforcement. Moss told the board that a mechanic for the street department is joining the Air Force and said he is investigating the possibility of hiring an experienced mechanic under the Madison County Manpower Grant program, at no direct cost to the village.

Minutes read at Friday night's meeting included the minutes of a recessed meeting the board held at 8:15 a.m. Saturday, June 14, at which efforts to rezone Parklane Estates for double-wide mobile homes were initiated.

The public was not officially notified that the Saturday meeting would be held, it was alleged.

The minutes show a motion by Keith Biggs was made, "to contact the zoning administrator to start the necessary procedure for a zoning hearing to change the zoning in Parklane Estates to a double-wide mobile home subdivision." The motion was seconded by Paul Bennett and all approved of the motion in a roll-call vote.

Also at that meeting, the board hired George Carich to replace Clarence Hudgins as the village's building inspector and a motion to officially terminate Hudgins immediately was approved unanimously.

Hudgins disagreed with the mobile home subdivision plan. On another motion, the board officially terminated the services of Vinson Thorpe, the village's humane officer, and voted to have Namecki Township assist the village in animal control.

Assembly aims for windup tonight

The Illinois General Assembly is expected to wind up its spring session by midnight tonight. Should the state's business be completed today it will mark the first time in 18 years the deadline for action by state legislators has not been extended on the final day of debate.

Final action has been taken on most major bills facing the legislature, with only a few amendments still being worked out, it was learned this morning.

Legislators reached agreement on such issues as: Senior citizens tax relief; separation of SIU campuses at Edwardsville and Carbondale; rape law reforms; take unemployment compensation; limitation of malpractice suits; 33.3 per cent property tax assessment for all counties; permutal betting at state fair and DuQuoin; a restrictive abortion law; payment of nonreligious textbooks costs of parochial and private schools; 9.5 per cent usury rate extension; and a grand jury bypass measure.

Defeated were such bills as: Equal Rights Amendment; no-fault divorce and no-fault auto insurance; minimum wage hike; separation of Madison County from the East Side Levee Board and Sanitary District; branch banking, gun control; congressional reapportionment; collective bargaining for teachers and public employees; an accelerated building program; marijuana decriminalization; life sentence for third felony conviction; and consumer affairs advocate.

A basically conservative nature was reflected by the General Assembly, it judged by action taken on a number of social issues.

The Equal Rights Amendment, mandating that equality under the law shall not be denied on account of sex, failed to pass the Senate, although approved in the House. Supporters have stated the issue will be introduced during the October veto session.

Approval was given a bill splitting the ties between the Edwardsville and Carbondale campuses of Southern Illinois University. The legislation will make the Edwardsville campus autonomous from the Carbondale campus and establish a separate board of trustees for SIUE.

A proposal to allow "no-fault" divorce, eliminating the need for one of the parties involved to be "at fault" in the marriage and allowing irreconcilable differences to be sufficient cause, was defeated.

Likewise defeated was a "no-fault" insurance plan, with both houses passing their own versions of such a bill which proved unacceptable to the other chamber.

Sparklers legal—here and there

Officials in the Quad-City area were unable to reach agreement this week on whether sparklers will be allowed in observance of the July 4 holiday.

Special GC council meet

A special meeting of the Granite City Council will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall council chamber today.

The meeting was called today by Mayor Paul Schuler who said the meeting is necessary to present a report by Sverdrup & Parcel and Associates, St. Louis engineering firm, and Dr. Robert Koepke of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, on conditions of the Granite City sanitary sewer system.

The report is expected to contain recommendations as to what must be done to halt a series of sewer breaks in the Namecki area.

allowed to be used by individuals in observance of the July 4 holiday.

Granite City Chief of Police Ron Veizer said the city's legal counsel for several years has advised him to allow sparklers in the city since they do not meet the definition of explosives in the city's charter.

Veizer said unless he receives further clarification of the law, he plans to allow sparklers to be sold and used. It would be visible, however, for stores to contact his office before offering sparklers for sale, in case another opinion is reached.

Madison Chief of Police Frank Dutko says he feels sparklers are included under the term "fireworks" and he said they will not be allowed in Madison.

Venice police are taking the opposite approach, a spokesman saying they will allow individuals to use sparklers in that city.

Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas Byron said the law is unclear at this time, but he does not feel sparklers are legal. Byron said the statutes prohibit explosives and "combustible materials with visual effects."

Residents of the unincorporated areas of the county, therefore, are being advised not to purchase or use sparklers.

A review plans for the industrial improvement of the Tri-City Regional Port to be made at a meeting of the Board of Task Force of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council at 3 p.m. Wednesday in St. Louis.

The 10 Bi-State Development Agency commissioners received court summonses Thursday in connection with a suit filed by 80 agency employees seeking a full accounting of the agency's pension fund and a $1 million payment of the defendants to compensate for money allegedly lost through mismanagement.

Fireworks panic pets, keep indoors

With the approach of the Fourth of July, area dog owners are reminded to keep dogs inside, especially during the evening hours, to avoid panicky animals running away.

Because sharp noises emitted by fireworks hurt a dog's sensitive ears, most animals become panicky and even a normally well-behaved dog may run away or snap at family members out of fear.

Mrs. Connie Becerra, shelter supervisor for the Quad-City Association for Protection of Animals, advised owners whose dogs usually are tied outdoors to move the animal into the basement or a porch area until after July 4.

"Each year we have many dog owners coming to the APA shelter seeking pets which have run away after being scared by fireworks," she said.

Several incidents involving use of fireworks, which is illegal except under an approved ordinance, are being reported daily to police.

Congress has sent President Ford a bill aimed at providing mortgage financing for thousands of moderate-income homeowners. The Senate passed the measure Friday after a compromise with the administration on a limit on home buyers' fees.

Colonial era gardens described

"Colonial Gardens" was the program presented by Mrs. Abe Shannon at the June meeting of the Gardeners Garden Club in the home of Mrs. Roy Hornmann, Pin Oak Road, Edwardsville. Conforming to the "Bicentennial Year" theme, June has been designated as "Heritage Month" and the speaker based her talk on some of the widely-known gardens of the early colonial patriots. She also described the smaller gardens to be found at an average home of that era.

Mrs. Alex Tarpoft, conservation chairman, said Scott

Wallace, an Edwardsville student, has been selected to attend a conservation school and workshop in July at Northern Illinois University.

The local garden group donated a scholarship grant to be used by the youth at the school, which is sponsored partially by the Garden Club of Illinois, Inc., in cooperation with the Illinois Department of Conservation and various state universities. Mrs. Tarpoft said. Hanging baskets and material suitable for growing plants in such containers are displayed at the Mini-Garden Information Center at the Granite City Public Library. It was announced.

Mrs. Thomas P. Layloff Jr.,

was welcomed as a new member.

Following the business meeting and program, the members toured the gardens and home of Walter Wisniewski and Arthur Christie of Edwardsville, inspecting varieties of ornamental and vegetable horticulture and observing conservation practices carried out by the men.

Other members attending were Mrs. Mary Kristian, Mrs. Charles Kohl, Mrs. C. E. Eads, Mrs. Jerry Arbeiter, Mrs. Earl Glenn, and Mrs. William Long, program chairman.

Mrs. Eads will entertain the club at her home July 10, with a tour of the Eads' garden starting at 9:30 a.m.

Miss Justine Alicia Fagan of Highland Falls, N.Y., and Army Lieutenant Daniel Lawrence Monken of Granite City were united in marriage at 7:30 p.m. June 5 in the Cadet Chapel at West Point, N.Y.

Bouquets of white summer flowers and tall white burning tapers adorned the altar for the double ring ceremony performed by Chaplain John Ford of West Point and the Rev. John Baekes of Brewster, N.Y.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fagan, 124 White Cap Ave., Daytona Beach, Fla. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Monken, 1521 Cottage Ave., West Point, N.Y.

The mothers of the bride couple were identically styled gowns of tulle-long polyester. Designed with sleeveless pleated bodices and long full skirts, their dresses were complemented with gold accessories and white phalaenopsis orchid corsages.

Mrs. Fagan selected a sea green shade and Mrs. Monken chose aquamarine.

After the reception, Lt. Monken and his bride departed on a tour of the East coast and Florida and a visit to Granite City. They will reside at Fort Sill, Okla., until January when the bridegroom will be assigned to duty in Germany.

Lt. Monken was graduated from Granite City High School, the U.S.M.A. Prep School, Fort Belvoir, Va., and the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

Lt. and Mrs. Monken were driven from the chapel to the reception in the "Rabbit Rouser" jeep by a 1975 classmate, a member of the group, who was dressed in a "Rabbit Rouser" uniform. It is the first time such transportation has been provided at the military academy.

Also attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Taylor of Granite City; Mr. and Mrs. William G. Monken, Lebanon, Ill.; and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Arbeiter and children, Franklin, Laura and John, of Manchester, Mo.

Saber bearers included Army Lieutenants Michael Nichols, Andrew Stanley, Howard Bush, William Cleckner, Peter Haglin, Myles Mierswa, Joseph Jaggers and Mark Heymeyer.

The bridegroom's bridesmaids included Miss Mary Ellen Palmer of Brewster, N.Y., and Miss Frances Dempsey of Scarsdale, N.Y., were bridesmaids.

They wore full length gowns of chiffon over tulle designed with V-necklines, accented with chiffon covered buttons, and A-line skirts.

The matron of honor chose a peach colored dress and the bridesmaids appeared in apricot. Each carried a bouquet of peach and apricot carnations intermingled with greenery and tied with ribbons to match her attire.

Lt. Michael Connors of Cincinnati, Ohio, attended the groom as best man. Lt. David Rittenhouse of Huntington, Pa., and Lt. Kenton Canby of St. Louis were groomsmen.

Unique role, location of local university has made its separation inevitable since day it was created

Separation of the two Southern Illinois Universities—voted 37-10 and 94-58 by the Illinois General Assembly and now subject to approval or veto by Governor Daniel Walker—is an idea whose time has come. Rather than being a precedent-setting act of fragmentation, it is an action envisioned from the start.

Founded at Carbondale in the 1800s, SIU has grown to immense proportions there. For many years, it has served as a much-needed and effective catalyst for educational, cultural and vocational progress throughout a wide area of Southern Illinois.

SIU at Edwardsville was created in the early 1960s and in 1965 began serving students mainly from the populous metropolitan area surrounding St. Louis. The university currently preparing to celebrate its tenth anniversary has been urban in its emphasis, just as SIUC has blended with and enhanced the rural nature of its setting.

The link with SIUC in the early years was logical and helpful. The expertise supplied by Carbondale educators and administrators enabled most "growing pains" to be avoided here. The local university president, Dr. John Rendleman, is originally from the Carbondale area, as are many others at SIUE.

It was apparent from the start that the beneficial link should not be permanent. Every child needs to crawl before he can walk, but every child needs to be able to look forward to adulthood and the opportunity to live his own life.

SIUE, which may eventually be known as Southwestern State University, can no longer operate efficiently while tied to Carbondale's apron strings, beloved as the "parent" may be.

A hundred miles apart geographically and worlds apart in most other ways, the two universities have separate faculties, administrations, curricula and missions. A third administrative structure, the board staff, is no longer needed and can be eliminated at great savings to the public once the two campuses have been formally separated. The scheduled effective date is July 1, 1976, if the legislation is signed into law.

The chief argument for the governor to affix his signature is summarized by SIUE officials as follows: Situated in an area unique because it was largely unserved by universities in the past, SIUE has assembled a high-caliber staff and now can begin living up to its always-obvious potential. But its path toward becoming one of the nation's finest institutions of higher learning will be impeded without a board specifically attuned to and concentrating on its role.

Most who are familiar with the local university subscribe to this reasoning and believe it should be accepted by Gov. Walker because of its validity. They reject the fragmentation issue as a point of concern not applicable in this instance; separation within a few years was inevitable from the first day SIUE opened its doors.

GOP loyalists bet on Thompson

By Ken Watson

SPRINGFIELD — Jim Thompson can have the nomination for the asking. That was the reaction here, beneath the Statehouse Dome following the surprise announcement by Attorney General William J. Scott that he does not want the 1976 Republican nomination for governor and will run next year for a third term as attorney general.

Overnight famed U.S. prosecutor James Thompson, 38, of Chicago, has become the No. 1 choice of GOP loyalists who still have high hopes of regaining the governor's office next year. Thompson's political star has been rising steadily the past year. His illustrious record of successfully prosecuting a score of prominent Illinois political figures, some Republicans as well as Democrats, has inevitably propelled him into prominence as has been the case with so many outstanding prosecutors in the past.

But Thompson moves onto the political scene at an especially propitious time for him. For in this post-Watergate era voters appear to be looking for candidates who represent a new morality in government. Few can offer such impressive credentials as Thompson. He has been widely hailed by a number of respected public figures including U.S. Sen. Charles S.

Percy as the best federal prosecutor in the United States.

He achieved national prominence through his conviction of former Gov. Otto Kerner and has followed this up with a long string of other convictions of once powerful Illinois politicians.

Thompson showed some political savvy last spring when he wisely turned down suggestions that he be run for mayor of Chicago. As it turned out, veteran Democratic Mayor Richard J. Daley proved unbeatable. Thompson, had he run, would undoubtedly have been engulfed in the Daley landslide and his political future would have been washed away.

But now with Scott's return to the Statehouse and the Republican gubernatorial heap. He can have the party's nomination if he wants it and his chances of besting Democratic incumbent Dan Walker appear bright at this stage. Scott's withdrawal from consideration has been a big plus for Thompson in helping him overcome one obvious handicap. He is relatively little known in Downstate Illinois. But the recent widespread speculation about his potential as a candidate for governor is rapidly helping to overcome that.

Thompson also benefits from the fact that with Scott out of the picture, the Republicans really don't have anyone else for governor. Able

State Comptroller George Lindberg is mentioned, but Statehouse professionals agree that he lacks the name recognition or "charisma" that will be needed to defeat a Walker personality like Walker.

Former Illinois congressman and present top presidential aide Donald Rumsfeld of Evanston, is also mentioned. But as one high GOP official pointed out recently when asked about Rumsfeld and 1976, "you can't campaign in Illinois from the White House."

Also with President Ford apparently committed to run for a full term on his own next year, it would appear that Rumsfeld will be so preoccupied with the presidential contest that any race of his own would be out of the question.

It has become obvious that rank and file Republican workers realize the big rebuilding job facing the party and are looking to a Thompson gubernatorial venture with relief. They believe he is the ideal man to run against Walker. The private view of respected GOP professionals is that Walker is going to once more be a formidable foe. There is skepticism that Daley can dump Walker in the primary even if he wants to.

It is going to take a tough and able campaigner to beat him and Thompson could be just the man.

Rolling—State lacks right to seize records at plant

Following is a partial text of the Third Judicial Circuit order quashing a search warrant under which the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency had seized documents at Granite City Steel.

The complaint for a search warrant alleged that the company violated a provision of the Act under Section 1044 (a) of Chapter 111½, Illinois Revised Statutes:

"(a) It shall be a Class A misdemeanor knowingly to submit any false information under this act or regulations adopted thereunder, or under any permit or term or condition thereof."

Under Section 1044 (e) thereof, it is provided: "(e) A corporation shall be held responsible for any offenses described in this section if:

"(i) an agent of the corporation performs the conduct which is an element of the offense while acting within the scope of his office or employment and in behalf of the corporation; or

"(ii) the commission of the offense is authorized, requested, commanded or performed by the board of directors or a high managerial agent who is acting within the scope of his employment."

"A corporation's proof that the high managerial agent—having supervisory responsibility over the conduct which is the subject matter of the offense—exercised due diligence to prevent the commission of the offense shall not be a defense available to the corporation."

The first question to be resolved is whether the complaint was sufficient to constitute probable cause for issuance of a search warrant.

Probable cause encompasses a belief that an offense has been committed and that the company committed it.

And probable cause means that the facts and circumstances within the knowledge of the affiant were sufficient in themselves to warrant a man of reasonable caution to believe that the law was being violated and that evidence of it were in the premises of the person to be searched.

In order for an offense to be committed under Section 1044 (a) of the Act, the company had to knowingly submit false information under the act or regulations adopted thereunder, to the EPA.

The word "submit" under the act has a definite meaning. In People v. Huls, 353 Ill. 412, the court on page 413 said:

"The word 'submit' taken in connection with the context of that section of the act where it is used, has a well defined meaning, generally understood by English-speaking people: to present for determination."

The violation required information to be submitted by the company, and had to result in a proceeding before the EPA, and involve some violation of the act, its regulation or permits before the EPA for its determination.

There is no fact alleged in the complaint for the search warrant, that information was submitted in any proceeding before the EPA or that it was in violation of the Act or any regulation or permits.

The only thing that appears in the complaint pertaining to the packet, as far as information is concerned, is the conclusion by an officer of the company that the federal test was "in compliance with the applicable Illinois Implementation Plan."

There is no statement to bring such statement within the purview of Section 1044 (a) of the Act, or that the company was responsible for such conduct.

The brief submitted by EPA is written to defend the issuance of the search warrant on many possible grounds of attack; but the company argues in its brief only two grounds for quashing the warrant.

The EPA's position is that if everything alleged in the complaint can be taken as true, enough has been alleged to show probable cause that a crime has been committed.

The company's position is that even if all the facts alleged are taken as true, they do not make a case—there was no allegation of fact that any of the information submitted was false or that anyone employed by the company was responsible for such conduct.

In order for a search warrant to be legally issued, sufficient facts must be alleged and sworn to that would lead a cautious man to believe that a crime has been committed.

It is true that if the complaint is sufficient on its face, the

Vadalabene urges letters to governor

To the Editor:

A new day has dawned for higher education in the Illinois Legislature with the passage of Senate Bill 116 in the House by the conclusive vote of 94-58.

The bill will give Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville the independence it has been promised and long deserved.

With the careful guidance of fine legislators like Rep. Horace Clay, in fact all the representatives from this region, we were able to convince the House of the wisdom of this step forward.

There is a more important aspect to the legislation, however. All of the higher educational systems in the state, as well as bureaucratic agencies like the Illinois Board of Higher Education, had better take careful note of this act by the legislature. To my mind, it means that representatives of concerned areas are demanding responsible action from everyone concerned with higher education.

Everybody realizes that the days of easy money and a program for every imaginable problem have been long gone. What also must be realized is that areas with special needs and interests want to be heard; more and more, we have come to recognize that governing boards need to have a constant involvement with the constituencies which they have been given the power—and the responsibility—to serve through their institutions.

Now final action lies in the hands of the governor.

Since Governor Walker campaigned on a platform of returning government to the people, I am confident that he will find this legislation consistent with that philosophy.

I hope that all of those in the area who are concerned with making the most of our higher educational resources will communicate with the governor and ask him to sign this bill.

This July, we will officially begin the celebration of the independence of America as a nation. This month would serve as an excellent occasion to bring independence to the university at Edwardsville—and to bring a new birth of freedom and understanding to an area vitally deserving this change.

Broad law on political committees

To the Editor:

Many people who do not think of themselves as being involved in politics have discovered that, according to a new Illinois law, they are.

Because of certain activities, they can be considered "political committees" and, as such, must comply with certain requirements under the law.

The Campaign Financing Act went into effect last year. And all of the material relevant to the test was highly technical in nature. The only person, however, who could obtain information to see if the company did anything wrong in the conduct of the test was the federal EPA, and not the State Board of Elections.

These laws were enacted because the general public demanded to know certain financial information about candidates, elected officials and individuals and groups who are financially involved in political campaigns.

In the present case, the only material to show probable cause is the report submitted on the federal test and the data sought by the warrant.

And all of the material relevant to the test was highly technical in nature. The only person, however, who could obtain information to see if the company did anything wrong in the conduct of the test was the federal EPA, and not the State Board of Elections.

These laws were enacted because the general public demanded to know certain financial information about candidates, elected officials and individuals and groups who are financially involved in political campaigns.

The Illinois Act is so far-reaching that it often involves people who do not know they are involved.

Since the Illinois law contains criminal penalties for violations, the State Board of Elections urges all citizens to familiarize themselves with the provisions of the Act.

For example, anyone who has given, collected or spent over $1,000 over a 12-month period to any candidate for political office must file a report.

This might include the collection of union dues by a local union steward if more than $1,000 of the money he collects ultimately may go to a candidate. Or, it might include persons hosting get-togethers for a candidate.

Or, anyone who has contributed over $1,000 to a civic organization which may become a "political committee" if the organization becomes involved in any question of public policy to be submitted to the voters in Illinois.

These persons or individuals are "political committees" under the Act.

To comply with the law, extensive records must be kept in some cases. And reports of expenditures and income to any candidate must be filed from people, in the aggregate of more than $150, must be filed.

Filing must be made at the State Board of Elections offices. There are many more aspects to the Campaign Financing Act and those who have questions may call the State Board of Elections. The Springfield phone number is (217) 782-5847.

ILLINOIS STATE

the complaint is false, perjury may be assigned upon it.

In this state, this is a recourse open to the citizen who has been subjected to a search based on a false affidavit. A conviction for perjury, however, cannot be predicated on a belief, though the belief be unfounded in fact and law.

The finding of the complaint for the search warrant clearly shows that the only matter involved was what happened at the test.

The facts relied on by complainant were that a letter and packet were sent to the EPA; that complainant was at the test and he didn't see a tip of the vessel which could affect the discharge of particulate matter; that complainant was refused raw data.

Also, that the data in the brochure made it clear that the calculations were conducted using a longer period of time than the test equipment was on line and the basic oxygen furnace operating, and this necessarily reduced the volume of pollutants per unit of time and by using time when no sampling occurred.

That the company deviated from accepted engineering practice and the method proscribed in the Federal Register; that the test measured carbon monoxide emissions but the summary provided no carbon monoxide values.

The part of the test only contained five minutes of oxygen flow, and that affiant knows, and confirmed it with Frank Sherman, EPA metallurgical specialist, that this was wholly out of the standard processes in the industry.

And that certain cycles included pre-hot time and this was inconsistent with other cycles; and without access to records, affiant is unable to determine if this is representative of the company's policy.

Information sent was not in regard to the Illinois EPA but what was done at the Dec. 19, 1974 test requested by federal authorities.

The information sent was not "submitted" for a determination but only to show what was done. It did not refer to the Illinois EPA, its regulations or permits.

It is inconceivable that this information could be classified as "knowingly submitting false information" to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES C. MORRIS. They were married at the Tri-City Park Tabernacle. The bride is the former Susan Lynn Ripley, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ripley, 2008 St. Clair Ave.

Susan Lynn Ripley and Charles C. Morris wed

Miss Susan Lynn Ripley, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ripley, 2008 St. Clair Ave., became the bride of Charles Clarence Morris, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Morris, 2544 Lynch Ave., in an early evening ceremony on June 7 at the Tri-City Park Tabernacle.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Polizzi, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Magr. Lawrence Mattingly.

"Sunrise, Sunset," "Wedding Song," "More" and "The Lord's Prayer" were provided by organist Mrs. Merwin Kessler, guitarist Perry Dillard and vocalist Jon Grindstad.

The bride was escorted by her father down the white carpeted aisle, which was illuminated with pink candles in standing candelabra. The altar was adorned with bouquets of pink daisies, palms and white bows arranged with burning pink tapers in tall holders.

She wore a full-length white organza gown fashioned in an empire silhouette. The oval neckline was traced with Chantilly lace and the long, full sleeves had matching lace around the cuffs.

The decorative lace accented the bodice and extended down the skirt on each side. A full sweep detachable train falling softly from the waistline also was bordered in lace.

Her headpiece of lace and bows secured a lace-edged mantilla veil and she held an elongated bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis, pink baby's breath and variegated greenery with white velvet streamers.

The maid of honor was Miss Linda Meyer and the bridesmaids included Misses Pam and Lisa Morris, sisters of the groom, Mrs. Judy Ripley, the bride's sister-in-law, Miss Kathy Alley and Miss Robin Stanton, cousins of the bride and groom, and Miss Nancy Ripley, the bride's sister.

The attendants were dressed alike in a rainbow colored gown of dotted Swiss voile. High ruffled necklines accented the empire bodices, trimmed in white lace. Each wore a brief long sleeved jacket and carried a colonial bouquet of car- nations, and baby's breath with satin streamers in a color to match her frock.

Dawn Thomas, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a similar style dress and carried a basket of mixed blossoms.

The groom chose Richard Moore as his best man. Groomsmen included Bruce Dillard, Seaman First Class Richard Ripley of Charleston, S.C., a brother of the bride, Bill Mibu, Robert Wiggins, Donald Kessel, the bride's cousin, and Paul Morris, a brother of the groom.

Seating the guests were Greg Moutria, a cousin of the bride, and Mike and Ernie Morris, brothers of the groom.

Gary Rainwater was the ringbearer. Serving as can- didlighters were Miss Patty Morris, a sister of the groom, and Miss Jennie Meyer, the groom's cousin.

Mrs. Rita Moutria registered guests at a reception held at the Tri-City Park Tabernacle. The rehearsal dinner was hosted at Tony's Restaurant by the groom's parents.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ripley chose a long pink crepe gown enhanced with silver accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Morris, was at- tended in an orchid floral print gown with white accessories.

The newly married couple is now residing at 2832 Adams St., following a wedding trip to the Lodge of the Four Seasons at the Lake of the Ozarks, Mo.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN FORYS, 823 Greenwood St., Madison, prepared to cut their 50th wedding anniversary cake at a dinner dance at the Polish Hall in Madison. The couple renewed their marriage vows earlier the same day at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church.Mr. Mrs. John Forys mark 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Forys, 823 Greenwood St., Madison, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary by renewing their marriage vows during a morning Mass at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church. About 200 relatives and friends, many from out-of-town, gathered at the Polish Hall in Madison later the same day for a dinner and dance. The honored guests were married on June 20, 1925, at St. Mary's Church. They have lived their entire married life in Madison. Mr. Forys was employed at Laclede Steel Co. in Madison prior to retiring several years ago. The couple has three sons, Edward, Gene and David Forys, all of Granite City; and two daughters, Mrs. Louis (Leona) Parison of Marine, Ill., and Mrs. Joseph (Maryann) Lisowski of Madison. Mr. and Mrs. Forys also have 13 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Many friends from their immediate neighborhood also attended the celebration.

Fibrosis campaign to fight lung disorders

Mrs. James Worthen of Granite City, as honorary chairman of the 1975 Breath of Life campaign of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, will lead volunteers in raising funds to support research, care and education programs benefitting children who suffer from lung-damaging diseases. The announcement of Mrs. Worthen's selection as campaign chairman was made by Jack Buck, chairman of the Gateway Chapter, St. Louis. The campaign begins with a door-to-door drive scheduled for September.

"There are millions of reasons why I'm involved in the Breath of Life campaign, and they are the millions of children in the United States whose lives are threatened by lung-damaging diseases, such as cystic fibrosis," Mrs. Worthen said.

"For many of these children, breathing is a struggle," she pointed out. "Some don't even have the breath to blow out the candles on their birthday cake. These children need our help, which we can provide by supporting the programs of the Gateway Chapter and its national C.F. Foundation."

Among the programs of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is support for over 100 Cystic Fibrosis Centers across the nation.

"These centers provide diagnosis, treatment and referral to children who have these lung-damaging diseases as well as those who suffer from gastrointestinal disorders related to cystic fibrosis," the campaign chairman said.

The foundation also funds research to find a cure and control for cystic fibrosis, the most serious of these lung-damaging diseases, and to develop better treatments for children suffering from all lung disorders.

Cystic fibrosis, the number one genetic killer of children, affects one out of every 1,500 babies born each year and occurs when a child inherits two genes for the disease, one from each parent. "The parents don't have cystic fibrosis, but they are among the 10 million carriers of the gene in the U.S. One goal of C.F. Foundation-supported research is a test to detect these carriers.

"Although incurable, cystic fibrosis can be treated. Because of advances in treatment during the past 10 years, children with cystic fibrosis have a brighter future," she continued.

"More than half are living past age 18. Just 15 years ago, most children with cystic fibrosis didn't reach school age."

The treatments that prolong the lives of children with cystic fibrosis also alleviate, and often cure, children with other lung-damaging diseases, she said, concluding, "We certainly don't need more reasons than these to actively support the Breath of Life campaign."

MRS. STEVEN L. PREIS, the former Miss Karen Ann Dobrowski, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Dobrowski, 1208 Iowa St., Madison. She was married Saturday afternoon at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison.

Karen Dobrowski and Steven L. Preis marry

Miss Karen Ann Dobrowski and Steven Leroy Preis exchanged their marriage vows before the Rev. Sylvester Micek, O.F.M., at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison.

The double ring service was performed at an altar decorated with bouquets of white mums, carnations and pompons. The sanctuary was illuminated with tall tapers in aisle candelabra and white satin bows marked the pews.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Dobrowski, 1208 Iowa St., Madison. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Preis, reside at 1868 Old Willow Road, Northbrook, Ill.

Miss Kathy Leake, a sorority sister of the bride, sang "If, 'Sunrise, Sunset," "Ave Maria," "Holy Spirit, Truth Divine" and "Wedding Song." She was accompanied by James Havranek at the organ.

Mrs. James Shepard was the matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Jean Dobrowski, the bride's sister, Mrs. Saralynn Dobrowski, a sister-in-law, and Miss Kathy McClanahan, Miss Janet Dobrowski, also a sister of the bride, was the junior maid.

The bridegroom chose his cousin, Edward Preis, as best man. The groomsmen were David and Gregory Preis, the groom's brothers, Joseph A. Dobrowski, brother to the bride, Terry Oswald and Gary Preis, cousins of the groom, and Jerry Gungler.

The former Miss Dobrowski selected a "Total look gown of white imported dotted swiss of the Romantic period. The high-standing collar of Nottingham lace fitted closely and the empire bodice was enhanced with a large Venice lace motif and an oval cameo necklace.

Full shepherdess sleeves were applied in diagonal fashion with sections of dotted swiss and organza outlined in Venice lace. The cuffs fitted snugly with tiny covered buttons fastening the elongated wristbands.

Her bouffant skirt, made with a chapel train, was detailed at the hemline with a banding of Nottingham lace above two full-tiered flounces of dotted swiss, edged in narrow Venice lace.

A camelot headpiece of Nottingham lace, embellished with seed pearls, was attached to a lace-bordered cathedral veil of imported French bird illusion.

She carried a colonial arrangement of white Sweetheart roses, white miniature carnations, stephanotis and baby's breath, trailing white satin streamers.

The attendants selected identically-styled gowns of gingham-checked dotted swiss in green and white. The semi-empire bodices were designed with short puff sleeves and v-necklines.

A single flounce ruffle added interest at the hemline, and their ensembles were complemented with white picture hats, trimmed in green and white. Each carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies, white pompons and baby's breath, garlanded with streamers.

Members of the wedding party were entertained at a rehearsal dinner in the Red Room of the Travelodge Motel in Granite City. The newlyweds greeted guests at a reception in the Polish Hall, Madison, following the ceremony.

Upon returning Friday from a wedding trip to Tan-Tar-A Resort at Lake of the Ozarks, Mo., the couple will be at home in Pekin, Ill.

The bride is a graduate of St. Teresa Academy, East St. Louis, and Illinois State University at Normal. She is employed at Pekin Community High School as a teacher of biology and chemistry. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Social Sorority.

Her husband was graduated from Glenbrook North High School in Northbrook, attended Illinois Wesleyan University at Bloomington for four years and received a teaching degree from Illinois State University at Normal. He plans to instruct social studies at a junior high school in the Pekin area.

Requirements for bonus are explained

Under Illinois statute, veterans of foreign wars since World War II who have not received their bonus payments have until tomorrow to apply for the benefit.

The statute, which extends the time during which veterans may apply, was enacted in August 1973.

To be eligible for the state bonus, veterans (1) must have lived in Illinois at least one year before their service or lived in the state for at least a year immediately following their discharge; (2) was stationed in a combat zone and (3) received a campaign medal.

In addition to those eligibility requirements, veterans also had to have served in the armed forces during certain times to qualify for the state payments.

World War II veterans who meet the state's requirements and who served between Sept. 16, 1940, and Sept. 3, 1945, may receive a bonus.

Payment for Korean War veterans amounts to a lump sum of $100. It is only given to persons who meet the state's qualifications, and who served anytime from June 27, 1950 through July 26, 1953.

Vietnam veterans who served on or after Jan. 1, 1961 to "the end of the hostilities" are eligible for the bonus if they meet state qualifications.

A spokesman for the Veterans Commission in Granite City said all persons who meet the three requirements should have automatically received the bonus following their discharge.

The statute allowing veterans to apply for the bonus applies to those persons who qualified for the payment but, for some reason, did not receive it.

All state bonus applications should be made on appropriate forms and forwarded to: Illinois Veterans Commission, 126 West Jefferson, Springfield, Ill. 62705.

Applications can be obtained from the Office of Veterans Affairs, SIUE; the Illinois Veterans Commission; or Veterans Service Center.

Applications for the new Veterans Group Life Insurance Program are available at the SIUE Office of Veterans Affairs as well as other VA offices, veterans' service organizations, and from the Office of Servicemen's Group Life Insurance, 212 Washington St., Newark, New Jersey, 07102.

The insurance program became effective last August.

Veterans discharged four years before the insurance became effective only have until Aug. 1, 1975, to get the coverage.

TO MARRY: Miss Carla Sue Werths, who will become the bride of E/3 Larry E. Griffin, U.S. Navy, on Aug. 16 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Plans for the late summer wedding are being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Werths, 2509 Hodges Ave.

Carla Werths bride-elect

Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Werths, 2509 Hodges Ave., are announcing plans for the Aug. 16 wedding of their daughter, Miss Carla Sue Werths, and E/3 Larry E. Griffin, U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Griffin, 2915 Pershing Ave. The engaged couple will be married at Sacred Heart Catholic Church, with the Rev.

James P. Hill officiating. Miss Werths graduated in 1974 from Granite City High School. Currently, she is in her freshman year at St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing. Her fiancé, also a graduate of the local high school, is stationed at the U. S. Naval Base in Jacksonville, Fla.

New Testament seminar

A seminar on the origin of the New Testament will be presented at the Bethel Evangelical Free Church, 2450 Stratford Lane, in two sessions July 7 and 8, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on both nights. The presentations, called the Institute in New Testament Documents, tell the story of the preservation of the New Testament from ancient documents to modern translations. The first session is entitled "The New Testament Documents: What Are They?" Actual photographs of many of the Greek documents are shown, including one of the oldest pieces of New Testament scripture that has ever been found. The oldest fragments were written on papyrus, which was made from a reed-like plant growing along the shores of the Nile. Today this material is so fragile that it cannot be handled, and is studied from microfilm copies. Beginning in the fourth century, New Testament documents were recorded only on parchment. This much stronger material was made from the skin of animals, such as goats and sheep. Parchment has weathered the tides of time and hundreds of such manuscripts have been almost perfectly preserved. Parchment was so valuable, that it was never discarded. Instead, the unwanted writing was scraped away and the new writing placed over it or in between the lines. Photographs of Codex Ephraemi, one of the classic examples of a rewritten manuscript, will be exhibited at the seminar. The second session will deal with the reliability of the text of the New Testament. The underlying text is compared to the text which supports secular books that are as old as the New Testament. The seminar is conducted by the Ministers' Greek Class of Redlands, Calif., an organization dedicated to promoting a greater understanding of the Greek New Testament among ministers and laymen of all denominations, according to the Rev. Robert Widbin, pastor of Christ. Craig P. Walker, the director, has studied at universities in the United States and Europe. He teaches in San Bernardino and is a collaborator for the International Greek New Testament Project. The public is invited.

Tickets for the new officers' first benefit event may be purchased in advance from Bethel 43 members. A school of instruction was held and Miss Sandy Miller, librarian, gave a paper on the subject "Two Centuries of Our Heritage." Preparations for a float in the Shriner's parade July 10 were reviewed and arrangements were made to attend the supreme session at Indianapolis, Ind. Escorted and introduced were Charlotte Rapp, a past honored queen; Betsy Slate, grand representative to New Mexico; Mrs. Rebecca Slate, guardian and Dr. Amos Rode, associate guardian. After the rituals, refreshments were served by Mrs. Ruth Smith and members of the Mothers Club.

Shrine parade, circus are near

Thousands of circus fans of this region are looking forward to Ainsd Temple's annual Shrine circus that will be presented in Belleville and Granite City during July.

Chairman Bob Hardy says, "This will be our biggest year, and we have the finest show talent-wise that money can buy. Every act is in the top-five bracket of the circus world, and producer L. N. Fleckles surrounds himself with the best talent possible."

R. Popkes has issued a challenge to the membership of Ainsd to assist during the six-day performance and the two major parades.

The first parade will be in Granite City at 8 P.M. on Thursday, July 10. The following night, downtown Belleville will host the parade. The circus will open the next day, July 12, at the Belleville Fairgrounds and will play two shows that day, returning on Sunday with three shows and on Monday night, July 14, with one show.

The circus will move here the next day, and give its next show on Wednesday, July 16 at 8 p.m. at the Tri-City Speedway on Route 203.

The circus also will perform here on Thursday and Friday nights, July 17-18.

Ainsd Temple has 36 units for the two evening parades.

Moolah Temple of St. Louis will join Ainsd in the Belleville parade, and numerous local groups will take part in both communities.

Tickets have been kept at $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children.

Hundreds of golden agers, youth groups, retarded, blind and deaf children will be guests of Ainsd "Circus Dads" again this year.

The Glorious Fourth in Illinois 100 years ago

The Fourth of July, 1875, the ninety-ninth anniversary of Independence Day, was celebrated in Illinois with parades, orations, picnics and fireworks.

But the Fourth came on Sunday that year and the celebrations were spread over a three-day period. Some towns held theirs on Saturday but the larger cities observed the date on Monday with Sunday devoted to patriotic church services, according to a check of newspapers of the period in the Illinois State Historical Library at Springfield.

Among the towns and cities that celebrated on Saturday was Bloomington where Adlai E. Stevenson I. delivered the oration and "the grand test of the new water works was satisfactory in all respects."

Some of the other Saturday celebrations were at Tuskegee, Shabbona, Hickory, Waterman, Johnson's Grove, Seward, Park, and Peoria. At Champaign "our orators enlivened the surrounding celebrations today by orations" but Monday was reserved as "our day."

The Chicago Inter Ocean headline to the story of the celebrations there read: "The Fourth on the Fifth." Some of the other places where parades and ceremonies were held on Monday included Mazon, Quincy, Ottawa, Peru, and Jacksonville.

What was possibly the state's grandest affair was the celebration at Springfield, although "a tremendous rain storm last night was a danger to the patriotic feeling of our citizens." Some of the streets were so muddy that the parade had to be rescheduled and those units on foot took to the sidewalks.

The day "was ushered in by the roar of cannon and the joyful ringing of church bells" and the Inter Ocean report continued, "despite the mud and large number of farmers were on hand early to join the festivities and excursion trains on the numerous lines of railroads leading to the city arrived bringing an immense number of people from the surrounding towns and cities making at least 10,000 visitors, in addition to our own people, filled the streets full."

The two-hour program at the platform erected on Capital Square (the present-day Old State Capitol) included the reading of "Paul Revere's Ride" by the Hon. John C. Nicolay, who had been one of Abraham Lincoln's secretaries, and an address by former Illinois Gov. John M. Palmer.

"The most popular unit in the mile-long parade, according to the Illinois State Journal, was the Mackerel Brigade. This was a fun group, led by its Grand Mogul, and dressed in 'masks and grotesque costumes.'"

The Mackerels were officially ordered to take over the Capitol's Hall of Representatives "poetically," if they can, "to 'don the armor and apparel in which to appear in the procession.'"

They marched out and mounted their "horses, mules, and jackasses," picked up their "banners and mottoes," and joined the parade where they "were greeted with cheer after cheer and considerable exhibition of merriment."

Chicago did not have a big parade or celebration but there were train and lake excursions, dozens of picnics, and three days of fireworks. The most prestigious occasion was the laying of the cornerstone at Col. James H. Bowen's iron works at South Chicago.

The guests took an eight-car Illinois Central train to Riverdale where they were served lunch, and then boarded several lake schooners for the trip down the Calumet River to the dedication site. Many of the guests returned to the city by lake steamers and others by train.

Troop 7 awards at picnic

A court of honor, family picnic and father vs. son softball game took place last week at the Granite City Army Installation as Boy Scout Troop 7, sponsored by St. Joseph's church, held a special June meeting.

An award ceremony was held following the picnic dinner. Dale Johnson and Wesley Stanfill were presented with the Life Scout Award, which is one rank below the top Eagle Scout rank.

First Class badges were presented to Robert Mungovan and John Nepute, Second Class Awards went to Tim Giesler and Dan Moutria, and Tenderfoot Awards were presented to Jim Nepute and John Mungovan.

New Scouts introduced were Bill Copeland and John Stanton. The following merit badges were awarded: Sports, Jim Nepute, John Nepute, Robert Mungovan, and Kenny Hillmer. Citizenship in the community, John Nepute, Robert Mungovan, and Hillmer; rifle and shotgun, and mammals, Bryant Sene, firemanship, Don Mautria, Tim Giesler, dog care, Moutria; Indian lore, John Mungovan; first aid, Robert Mungovan, and art, Tim Giesler.

Dale Johnson received merit badges for fishing, painting, railroad, computers, salesmanship and reading.

Wesley Stanfill received public health, skating, safety, animal industry and emergency preparedness merit badges.

Major John Johnson, the scoutmaster, announced that he and his family are being transferred and that Kendall Hillmer will be the new scoutmaster beginning Monday, July 14. Dave Warren will continue as assistant Scoutmaster.

John Stanfill made a report on troop finances.

After the program was over the scouts held the adults 10-7 in a softball game.

'Hole-in-one' to be fun event

Golfing fans and even those who have never golfed, can have a good time at the Breakfast Kiwanis Club's annual "Hole-in-one" tournament scheduled at Arlington Golf Club Saturday and Sunday, July 19 and 20, according to E. Ray Grishman, general chairman.

A general discussion of the event was held at the Thursday morning meeting of the group in Charlie's Restaurant.

Members of the club are selling tickets for a $1 donation which includes a free "Big Mac" at the Granite City or Collinsville McDonald's restaurants.

Proceeds will go to help needy children in the Quad City area. Kiwanian Ronald Coleman, alderman of the Seventh Ward and chairman of the aldermanic Finance Committee explained the heavy cost of sewer break problems to the city.

It was reported that Norman Kinder, the group's president, was attending a national Kiwanis convention in Atlanta, Ga.

150 at annual meeting of GC Society for Crippled

The fourth annual meeting of the Granite City Society for Crippled Children was held at the Trinity Hall in Madison in mid-week last week, with 150 members and guests in attendance.

Wayne Scannell and The Casuals entertained with accordion and guitar selections. Avery Schermer, chairman for the event, welcomed the group. President Gertrude Luebben introduced as new officers Avery Schermer, vice president, Barbara Watz, secretary, and Ralph Astorian, treasurer.

Directors are Roger Bowler, Rep. Horace Calvo, Glen Chaboude, Mrs. Lily Chaboude, Walter Christiansen, Maynard Davidson, Mrs. Fanny Epstein, Arthur Grimm, William F. Kinder, Mrs. Bonnie Lazenby, Ron Luebben, Junior Mathis, A. E. "Tony" Michel, Mrs. Catherine Michel, Chris Paschoff, Louis Paschoff, the Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey, Mayor Paul Schuler, Mildred Talley, David Whitsett, Faith Christiansen and Evelyn Leeper.

Bob Hardy, who hosts the "At Your Service" show on KMOX Radio, was guest speaker. He is presently chief rabbin of Ainad Temple and will be the next potestante of the Shriners in 1976.

Hardy spoke on the services of Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children. He also showed a film, serving as the narrator, starting with the treatment of a small child at the hospital. The child's progress will be filmed each year until age 16, and a documentary will be assembled and presented at that time.

He praised the Society for "constructive efforts on behalf of crippled and handicapped children," giving special recognition to Leo Lipe for his work in the Shriners organization as well as the local Society.

President Luebben presented Hardy a check for $750 to the Shriners Hospital and one for $250 to the Burns Transportation Fund.

She reminded member of the Shriners parade here on July 10. Theme of the Society's float is "Somewhere over the rainbow," with Roger Bowler and Bonnie Lazenby in charge.

Mrs. Faith Christiansen displayed handmade figures she has created for the float—the cowardly lion, scarecrow and Dorothy, heroine of the "Wizard of Oz."

Members of the committee for the annual meeting were Louis Paschoff, A. E. Michel, Ralph Astorian, Barbara Watz, Bonnie Lazenby, Glen and Lily Chaboude, Gertrude Luebben and Avery Schermer.

Mexican group to perform at Bicentennial program

A Mexican dancing and singing troupe, in this country to help Americans celebrate the nation's Bicentennial, will perform at 8 p.m. Wednesday, July 16, in the Granite City High School South auditorium.

The group, called "Old Ways in the New World: On Tour," will visit between 50 and 60 U.S. communities. It is sponsored jointly by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration and the National Endowment for the Arts.

The Smithsonian Institution is providing the entertainers with a chartered bus.

The Granite City performance is sponsored by the local Bicentennial Commission and the Mexican-American Cultural Commission.

The Mexican entertainers will present mariachi music, which is the traditional music played at Mexican weddings.

There are 23 members of the group, including 10 musicians playing guitars, horns and violins.

With a debut in Washington, D.C., the group comes to Granite City after a stop in Philadelphia.

The 1971 automobile of Carolyn Jenkins, 2540 Parkway Drive, sustained about $600 damage in a fire which was caused by a short-circuit in the ignition system wiring at 25th Street and Grand Avenue at 12:15 a.m. Thursday. Firemen extinguished the blaze.

6 associate judges take oath today

Six associate judges, including new Judge John Day of Wood River, were administered the oath of office this morning in the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville by Circuit Judge Joseph Barr of the Third Judicial Circuit Court.

Sworn in today, besides Judge Day, were Judges Edward Ferguson, Robert Francis, Thomas Gibbons, Merlin Hiscott and Philip Rarick.

Associate Judges A. Andreas Mateosian and Clayton Williams were unable to attend the ceremonies today and will be sworn in at other times prior to the commencement of their new four-year terms, Chief Circuit Judge Fred P. Schuman, noted.

Homecoming crowds up despite weather

Weekend thundershowers failed to deter area residents who thronged the midway at the Granite City Jaycees' 16th annual homecoming. The four-day event concluded last week at the carnival site on Fehling Road.

Many more patrons attended this year's homecoming than were noted in the past two years, a Jaycee spokesman said today.

A rainstorm early Friday evening kept carnival-goers away until about 9 p.m. when the midway became crowded, remaining packed until the 1 a.m. closing time.

Sunday's torrential downpour curtailed attendance at the children's matinee and disappointed many youngsters who were hoping to enjoy the rides at reduced cost, the officer said.

Jaycee members were required to dig drainage ditches around the carnival site to clear standing water Sunday evening. Later that night, the area once again was packed and long lines of people waited to board the midway rides.

Theft witnessed

Sound equipment worth a total of $500 was stolen from the van of Russ Tinnin, St. Louis, parked at Rico's II Lounge on Nameoki Road, and was seen being loaded by two men into a station wagon at 12:40 a.m. Thursday.

Tinnin is a member of a band performing at the lounge. Taken were two speakers and an amplifier. A witness said two men about 25 years of age loaded the equipment into a 1969 or 1970 green station wagon which had gray primer on the left front.

Time speeds on, two years have passed Since death's gloom, its darkness of mine, who all begin to feel, who all
And took from us a shining light.
We miss that light and ever will
His vacant place there is none to fill.
Down here we mourn, but not in vain.
For up in heaven we will meet again.

A. O. Smith safety awards

A. O. Smith Corp. has earned 14 separate National Safety Council awards for outstanding plant safety records compiled in 1974.

Four of the awards — Awards of Honor — are the highest bestowed by the council for industrial safety. One of these went to the corporation as a whole.

The National Safety Council has established iron and steel products industry "pay" rates of 12.65 accidents per million manhours worked for frequency and 7.22 days lost per million manhours worked for severity.

To win an Award of Honor in that industry, a plant or company must achieve at least a six per cent better than par frequency rate and a 30 per cent better than par severity rate. A. O. Smith's frequency per cent performance was 88 per cent better and its severity rate was 84 per cent better.

The other three Awards of Honor went to the Automotive division's Granite City plant, the Meter Systems division's Erie, Pa., facility and to A. O. Smith's Milwaukee operation.

In addition to the Awards of Honor, the National Safety Council gave A. O. Smith seven Awards of Merit, two Certificates of Commendation and one President's Letter. There are the second, third and fourth highest categories of company recognition.

A. O. Smith's division, subsidiaries and affiliates receiving Awards of Merit were: Armor Elevator Co., Inc., Louisville, Ky.; the Reinforced Plastics division of A. O. Smith-Inland Inc., Little Rock, Ark.; the Electric Motor division, Mount Sterling, Ky.; A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill. and Elkhorn, Wis.; the Product Service division, Chicago; and plant and Harvestore Products' Eureka, Ill., plant.

Cited for a President's Letter was the Consumer Products' Canadian facility at Stratford, Ont.

$50,000 grant to River Fest

A grant in the amount of $50,000 has been made to the Mississippi River Festival by the Illinois Arts Council, Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) announced Friday.

"This is dramatic recognition of what the Mississippi River Festival has come to mean to the enormous number of people on both sides of the river," Vadalabene said.

"Now that the Festival has become the basic responsibility of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, we will be able to demonstrate how significant a force for cultural growth that institution can be.

"Of course, good, plain entertainment is an important factor in the service and pleasure the MRF brings to families who enjoy its presentations. A great deal of sensitive planning went into this year's program, ensuring that all ranges of taste would be represented, yet the highest standards would be maintained.

"So we all have good reason to be grateful to Chairman Bruce Sagan and the entire Illinois Arts Council for their generosity. We know they are sure their confidence is well placed. Further, I have been informed that this grant is supplemented by one of $25,000 by the National Endowment for the Arts.

Festival officials also have high expectations of receiving $5,000 from the Dance Touring Program. This shows the wide breadth of support the Festival has earned in its years of operation," Vadalabene concluded.

Employment funds renewed

Cong. Melvin Price (D-23rd Ill.) announced last week that Madison and St. Clair Counties and the city of East St. Louis will receive $6,704,187 in public service employment funds for fiscal 1976, under terms of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA).

CETA, enacted in 1973, awards funds annually to state and local governments to provide employment and job training in public service.

According to Rep. Price, the Department of Labor will allocate CETA Title II funding to Madison County, $2,544,938 to Madison County, $472,300 to St. Clair County, and $211,776 to East St. Louis. Title II establishes programs to provide the unemployed with public jobs until positions are available in the private sector.

Title VI funds will be allocated in the amount of $2,160,532 to Madison County, $1,789,383 to St. Clair County, and $507,187 to East St. Louis. Title VI includes provisions for summer youth programs and employment opportunities for offenders.

Total disbursements, including additional discretionary funds, will total $2,947,587 to Madison County, $2,544,938 to St. Clair County, and $211,776 to East St. Louis.

Cycle crash injures two; both charged with theft

Rodney Dickerman, 20, of 4720 Wacker Ave., was admitted to St. Louis County Hospital No. 1 in satisfactory condition Friday morning after being involved in a motorcycle accident.

He and a juvenile boy who resides on Morrison Road have been charged with taking the motorcycle from Stanley Dylewski, of northern St. Louis County before 11:55 p.m. Thursday.

It is alleged that St. Louis County police saw the stolen motorcycle with two youths on it at 12:35 a.m. Friday and chased it to Interstate 270. The chase continued across the Interstate 270 bridge into Illinois and Madison County sheriff's deputies and Illinois state police were called to assist.

The St. Louis County squad car reported the motorcycle attempted to turn south on Route 3 from the interstate, lost control on the exit ramp and went into a ditch. It was reported the motorcycle may also have struck the guard rail at high speed before going into the ditch.

The officers who were chasing the motorcycle said they could not find the two men who were on it, but believed them to be injured and nearby. At 1:05 a.m. Friday, a search was started by St. Louis County Police, Madison County Sheriff's Deputies and Illinois State Police.

Dickerman was found in a wooded area near the motorcycle at 1:12 a.m. and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital as the search for the second youth continued. A St. Louis County Police helicopter was called in to aid in the search.

Dickerman suffered severe cuts to his lower left leg and cuts to his neck and left arm as well as hematoma to his head.

His loss consciousness for a period after the accident, but was able to talk to police at the hospital. He later was transferred to City Hospital.

Officers alleged he falsely identified the other youth who had been with him. They spent some time attempting to locate the youth he named, in case he had escaped injury and left the scene.

Dickerman later identified the other youth with him and police worked for nearly three hours before being informed the juvenile had returned home, authorities said. He was arrested at his home at 4 a.m. Friday and the search near Route 3 was halted.

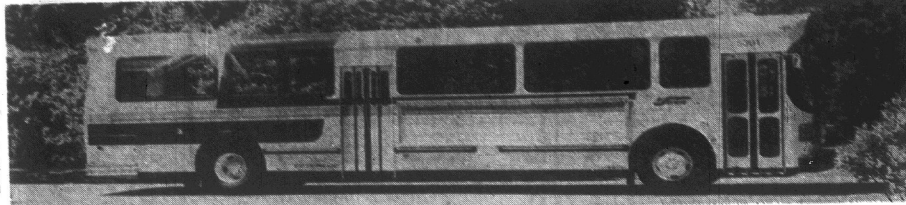

The youth was charged by state police with leaving the scene of an accident and having no valid driver's license. He also was charged with theft.

Faces 3 charges

Elmer Humphrey, 50, of 1808 Ferguson Ave., was arrested at his home Saturday morning and was charged with leaving the scene of an accident, intoxication and careless driving.

Police alleged the auto of Rusty Denise Schank, Washington Park, was westbound on Pontoon Road and stopped for a stop sign at Maryville Road when her car was struck from behind by an auto which left the scene.

When police arrested Humphrey, he had cuts to the top of his head and beside his left eye and abrasions to his left arm, left wrist and right arm. X-rays were taken and he was returned to the custody of police. He said he fell in his home.

DISPLAYED HERE on Thursday, The Bi-State Development Agency's Transit Division is adding 240 new 43-passenger buses. Each has a two-cycle General Motors diesel engine. Production of the air-conditioned vehicles by American Motors at Mishawaka, Ind., is scheduled so that all will be delivered and ready for operation by August. The order consists of 173 buses of 49-passenger capacity and 67 which are designed for 43 persons.

New buses stress passenger comfort

One of the 240 new buses purchased by the Bi-State Development Agency under a $16 million federal grant was introduced to the public Thursday afternoon at the National Village Shopping Center.

All 240 of the new buses are expected to be in service by the end of the summer.

"They will be scheduled throughout the bi-state area for maximum new-bus service to the greatest number of people. Bi-State riders will be treated to many innovations in comfort, design and safety engineering on these new buses," Executive Director Robert J. Baer points out.

"The new buses were specifically selected with passenger comfort and safety in mind."

Comfort features include padded seats, railings, form-fitting contour seats mounted on pedestals to provide more leg room, air conditioning, and double shock absorbers for riding comfort.

To ensure passenger safety, the new buses meet the latest government safety standards, and have padded handrails, with double handrails at the entrance (one at normal height and a lower one to aid the elderly and the handicapped). The rear door has a safety edge that automatically opens the door if the edge touches a passenger. A further safety feature is a new non-skid brake system.

"Each new bus is equipped with the latest environmental improvement package for cleaner air. There is no visible smoke or odor from any of the 240 new buses," Baer added.

Each of the new buses will be equipped with a two-way radio for constant communication with the Bi-State radio control center for emergency rerouting, passenger security, and other information necessary to provide the best possible transit service.

"The Board of Commissioners and the entire Bi-State Agency team," Baer said,

"are excited about these new buses. They mean improved service, greater dependability and the best in passenger comfort and safety. The new buses are a tangible symbol of many other improvements soon on the way to our bi-state region."

"In the near future, new passenger shelters at bus stops, new routes, added service on existing lines, park-and-ride, a mini-bus circulator system for downtown St. Louis and many more new buses will be added to our system."

"The unveiling — with its emphasis on transit rider participation — marks the beginning of vastly improved service to the people of Illinois and Missouri," Baer concluded.

Hobby shop burglarized

Items valued at about $80 were stolen during a burglary at J&I Hobbies, 205 State St., which was reported at 7:45 a.m. Saturday. Taken were four pairs of turntables, three boxes of oil paints, a thread cut kit, three boxes of craft fur and a picture.

Entry was gained by kicking open a rear door which was locked and secured with a cross bar. The door to the rear work area also was kicked open and a crossbar bracket knocked from the door frame. A soft drink machine was entered, but there was no money inside.

Democrats devise plan for naming delegates

John P. Touhy, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Illinois, announced Friday the preparation by the Democratic State Party of a delegate selection plan for Illinois to determine the method of selecting delegates to the 1976 Democratic National Convention.

Highlights of the plan include: (1) Election of all 189 delegates and 83 alternates from Congressional Districts at the primary election, in 1976; (2) Apportionment of delegates on a formula based equally on the Democratic vote for President in 1968 and 1972 and Democratic strength as measured by the 1974 primary vote, and (3) Party enrollment by the close of precinct registration.

Persons who wish to challenge the plan may do so. The plan also provides for a written notice of intent to challenge with Robert F. Wagner, chairman of the Compliance Review Commission, 1625 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036, and with John P. Touhy, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, 534 South Street, Springfield, Ill. 62701 by July 10, 1975.

Rules and Regulations of the Compliance Review Commission and the Illinois Affirmative Action Plan are available from Touhy at the address above shown.
